

Defender of the Universe by art1stic
Chapter 18

Voltron and his pilots take the shell of the RoBeast and hurl it into the Drune ark in orbit, embedding the shell within the hull of the ark and seriously damaging the ark's hull and navigation capabilities, and knocking it away with great velocity. The Drune disassemble from the RoBeast's body and reboard the ark, getting rid of the destroyed elements, and stating "Haggar is no longer with us. Zarkon is dead. Awaken Lotor. We need a leader." Lotor takes his position, recovering the Drune's surviving elements and begins to repair the ark. Zarkon's body is placed next to Lotor on the bridge for him to remember the day's defeat.