Chapter 20

The citizens of Arus pay homage to Voltron by rebuilding the Castle of Lions into a high tech structure with the latest technologies in communication between the Lion ships, detecting global threats, and securing the planet. Also, a tunnel system is built to transport the pilots to their Lion ships within a moment, should they all be at the Castle when an incident occurs. The new castle and tunnel system is created by, and built under the supervision of Coran, the former castle diplomat and advisor to King Alfor.

ROLL CREDITS

A final scene which ends with an alarm where the Lion pilots use the new tunnel system.
